Mark Whitfield – On Photography

Mark is a professional photographer with over 30 years experience. Mark photographed the Tatler restaurant guide for 13 years and has also shot food and interiors for a variety of magazines, restaurants and PR companies. Aside from food and interiors, other commissions and published work include a large number of portraits, travel photography and still-life. We are delighted to welcome Mark who is keen to tell us about his work and discuss and answer your questions on all things photographic.
